

A-Core Container

Ecuador s new communication base station 1 2MWh

Overview

- Internet hosts: 170,538 (2012).
- Internet users: 5.3 million, 56th in the world (2012); 35.1% of the population, 119th in the world.
- Fixed broadband: 825,732 subscribers, 59th in the world; 5.4 of population, 102nd in the world (2012).

What is the telecommunications system in Ecuador?

Telecommunications in Ecuador include telephone, radio, television, and the Internet. Ecuador's state regulatory agency is the National Telecommunications Council (CONATEL), which is part of the Telecommunications Ministry (MINTEL). Fixed lines: 2.2 million lines, 56th in the world; 15 per 100 persons (2011).

How common is Internet access in Ecuador?

Public Internet access centers, known as Infocentros, have been installed in 377 (48 percent) of Ecuador's 810 rural parishes, with a projection of 100 percent by 2014. Internet cafes are also becoming increasingly common.

How many cell phone providers are there in Ecuador?

There are three cell phone providers in Ecuador: Claro (Telcel), Movistar, and CNT. Mobile networks are diverse and include GSM 850 MHz (largest) as well as CDMA (Bell South 's old network before being acquired by Telefónica Spain which rebranded Movistar), TDMA63. CNT is the state owned firm and uses CDMA.

How many cellular lines are there in Ecuador?

Ecuador's state regulatory agency is the National Telecommunications Council (CONATEL), which is part of the Telecommunications Ministry (MINTEL). Fixed lines: 2.2 million lines, 56th in the world; 15 per 100 persons (2011). Mobile cellular: 15.3 million subscribers, 55th in the world; 100 per 100 persons (2011).

What is Ecuador's new 'Organic Law on communications'?

Ecuador's new "Organic Law on Communications" was passed in June 2013. The law recognizes a right to communication. Media companies are required to collect and store user information.

How fast is the Internet in Ecuador?

In May 2012, the Superintendent of Telecommunications indicated that the overall average speed of an Internet connection in Ecuador is 128 kbit/s, although speeds are lower in rural areas. In its Freedom on the Net 2013 report, Freedom House gives Ecuador a "freedom on the net status" of "partly free".

Ecuador s new communication base station 1 2MWh

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://a-core.pl>