When adding solar panels, you have two main options: roof-mounted or ground-mounted. Each works better in different situations, so which is best for you?

When adding solar panels, you have two main options: roof-mounted or ground-mounted. Each works better in different situations, so which is best for you?

The most obvious difference between ground-mounted and roof-mounted solar panels is the installation location. Roof-mounted solar panels, just as the name suggests, are solar panels set up on your roof. This is the more typical way homes get solar, primarily because roofs, being high up, are the.

Ground-mounted solar panels operate like a typical rooftop system but are generally more efficient. Ground-mounted solar panel installations cost about $61,880 on average before incentives. They're usually more expensive than roof-mounted systems, but can maximize your renewable energy production.

Ground mounted solar panels and roof solar panels both harness sunlight for energy but have different advantages. Ground mounted panels can be placed and angled for maximum sun exposure, are easier to clean and maintain, but can take up considerable space. Roof solar panels are more commonly used.

To choose the best type of solar setup for your needs, you'll want to understand the pros and cons of ground-mounted vs. roof-installed solar panels. There's no one-size-fits-all solution, and the right choice will depend on the unique features of your property. Ready to weigh your options?
